"The vessel, which was loaded with Ural crude on April 21 at a Russian port, was delayed for 10 days due to technical reasons," the official added. "It then arrived at Egypt's Suez Canal on May 17, where it waited in a long queue for 12 days to cross the canal." Web Desk

Declining quality of education in Balochistan

education in Balochistan

Quality education remains a main concern for the parents, teachers, and government across Pakistan. Poor quality of education is a major drawback of the educational system in the country.

Balochistan A recent report by this daily revealed only 0.8 percent of students managed to score A+ grade in middle-level examinations 2019-20. As per the statistics of Balochistan Assessment and Examination Commission (BAEC), 322 students out of a total 42,823 students got A+ grade in the examination.

A bleak future

No matter how much one tries to be optimistic, policymakers continue to make decisions that only push the country and its people to an uncertain future. There is little realization among policymakers that the current structure of the economy does not work for the people of the country, and only serves interests of a very small rentier class. As the population of the country grows at the bound of the country grows at the country grows. As the population of hidden who grow a country grows at the country grows and historically high food inflation, the number of children who grows grows grows and the state even has the capacity or the realistic country grows and the grows grows grows and the grows gr

Due to the inability to ensure availability of foreign currency liquidity by taking corrective actions early, industrial activity has virtually mothballed in the country, and is largely contingent on the ability of various entities to lobby with the central bank to get preferential access to foreign currency liquidity. If lower production, and eventually lower output wasn't enough, the government — without any rational of enough, the government — without any rational or — slapped another super tax on the formal economy — further squeezing an already fragile real economic position.

Such a tax would ensure that there is no reinvestment in the economy, and no new jobs are created either. The government through lack of will or ability is pushing the country towards an increasingly informal economy, where avenues to tax get shrunk further.

Even the government.
